It was at that time, that the silence was largest
And longest, the night was roundest,
The fragrance of the autumn warmest,
Closest and strongest.

The thoughts of mine are not of loneliness but of stagnation following the footprints of time. As the ocean waves glide across the velvet superficies of winter, I can feel my heart keep time with the moments of emptiness. The shallow memories of tomorrow withstand my life of yesterday.

Thoughts –
going out with the tide –
never to return.

Barry Hathaway

Judy Rich

but wanting to win is."

Soccer

Sparked by the scoring powers of Mark Boudreau, Joe Lynch, and Pete McSweeney, the soccer team posted a 7 win, 6 loss season. Fullback Rich Carpenter, voted Most Valuable Player, was the backbone of the defense along with the outstanding defense of the Quirk brothers.

Although losing the outstanding talents of co-captains Steve Tansey and Bill Foley, Coach Longley is looking forward to a winning season next year.

Field Hockey

Faced with the challenges of no practice field, all away games, and a majority of new and inexperienced players, Coach Bonnie Schreck put together a team that never quit.

After a losing season, suffering many close defeats, the team entered the State College Tournament as the underdog, but due to determination they beat Framingham State and lost to first place Worcester State by only one goal, giving the team a third place berth.

Sharing the responsibilities as captain were Nancy Palaima and Beth Boutwell. All of the players are expected to return next year with the new outlook of having a decent practice field, experience on their side, and hopes of a winning season.

Cross Country

The Salem State cross country team, captained by Brian Gleason, had a winning season this year with 7 wins and 4 losses. The team is assured of at least three more good years as long as Mike Malloy, a freshman this year, continues to run.

With the first five men counting in cross country, Malloy constantly held the number one position all year, while the other runners, Brian Gleason, Terry Quinn, Bobby Cossman and Bob Wheeler, traded positions at every meet.

One of the best meets of the year for the team was here at home, where the meets are run at Marblehead Neck. Pitted against Lowell State, SSC won a resounding victory, winning places one through five in that race.

Since there are no senior members on the team, Coach Gillis is looking forward to another fine season.

Basketball

With a 12-3 league record, which won the Massachusetts State College Championship, and a 16-5 overall record, which led the team to the NAIA Tournament, Salem State's basketball team had a highly successful year.

Much of the success was due to junior center Etson Cameron who led in scoring with a 15.7 points per game, and rebounding with 11 rebounds per game. He was elected to the NAIA All District 32 South Basketball Team, and Coach Joe Lavacchia was elected Coach of the Year by the same district.

The outstanding play of seniors, All East forward, co-captain Bob Palange, forward, Kim Carpentier, and guard, Bob Burns will be missed next year, although next year should prove just as successful with many returning talents.

Bob Goodwill Memorial Basketball Game

Volleyball

The 1973 season was a year for building. Eight A team players from last year had graduated. Competition was keen this year and it took its toll on the new A team and the novice B team.

Steady improvement and determination over the long season did pay off as the team defeated Lowell State and Framingham State to gain a second place seeding in the Eastern Division Massachusetts State Volleyball Tournament.

Although defeated in tournament play, the volleyball team has become wiser and more experienced setting high goals for next year.

Basketball

Although suffering from a lack of game experience and no offensive drive, the women's basketball team managed to pull through with an overall record of 5 wins and 8 losses. The team improved steadily throughout the season with good defensive play and the offensive coming together. Sue Bowers, voted Most Valuable Player and Most Outstanding Player, and Nancy Palaima, Athlete of the Year in all women's sports, led the team as co-captains.

Ms. Everitt hopes for a more successful season next year when experience will be on their side in spite of the fact that the team will be losing two exceptional players, Nancy Palaima and Mary Lou Courcelle.

Hockey

With exceptional play by many freshman and returning players, the Salem State Varsity hockey team had a record year. Their division record was 17-3, their overall season play, 21-3, and their tournament play, 1-1. The team won the Codfish Tournament this year with outstanding play by Most Valuable Player George Hughes, who was assisted in this high scoring tournament by Mark Boudreau.

This year the freshmen stood out on the team with two time All East Defenseman, Dick Lamby, who this year made the first team of the All American ECAC Division II team. The goal tending was shared by freshmen Jerry Kusy and Gerry Gagnon.

The high-scoring ability of juniors Mark Boudreau and George Hughes, and senior John Griffin led Salem to a third place berth in Division II, losing in the semifinals to Merrimac College.

With the experience of tournament play, which was lacking this year, and a large number of returning players, as only two seniors, Jay O'Leary and John Griffin, are leaving, the team should win the division next year. Coach Urbanski and Assistant Coach Funchion are looking forward to a championship team.

For when the final Scorer comes to mark against your name—
He writes—not that you won or lost—but how you played the Game.

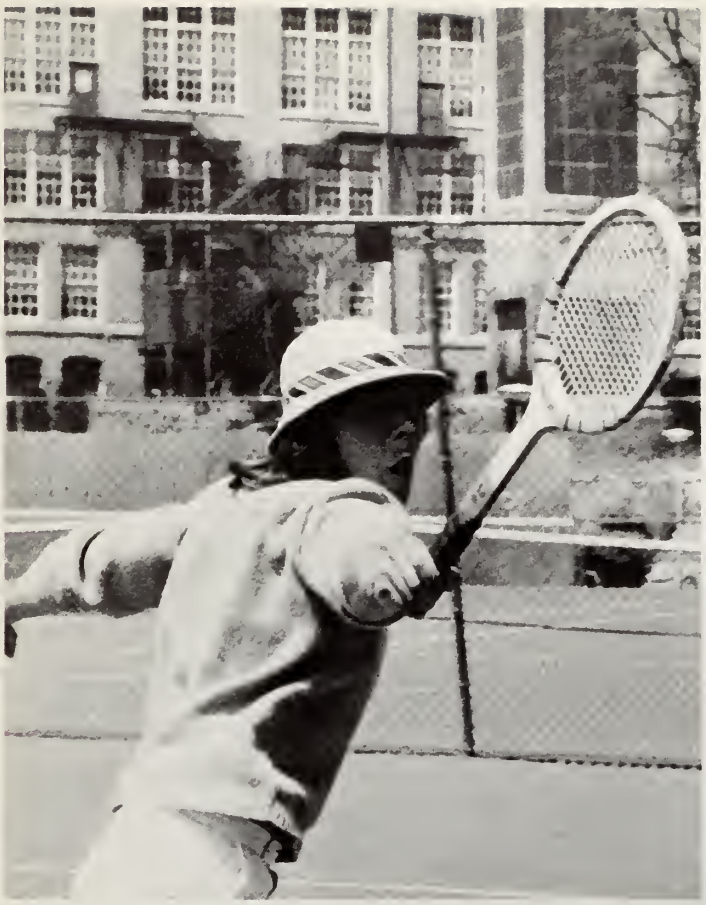
Gymnastics

Salem State's women's gymnastic team, under the leadership of Coach Abigail Mason and assistant coach and trainer Sal Chiccone, had a building year. With only three returning members, Joanne Gentleman, Michelle Plaisance, and Suzi O'Grady, who was injured for most of the season, the team lacked experience in competition.

The team improved during the season with increasing point total, yet it was a losing season.

New members on the team have great talent, and development in each of the four stations; vault, beam, bars, and open exercise should provide the needed perfection for next year's wins.



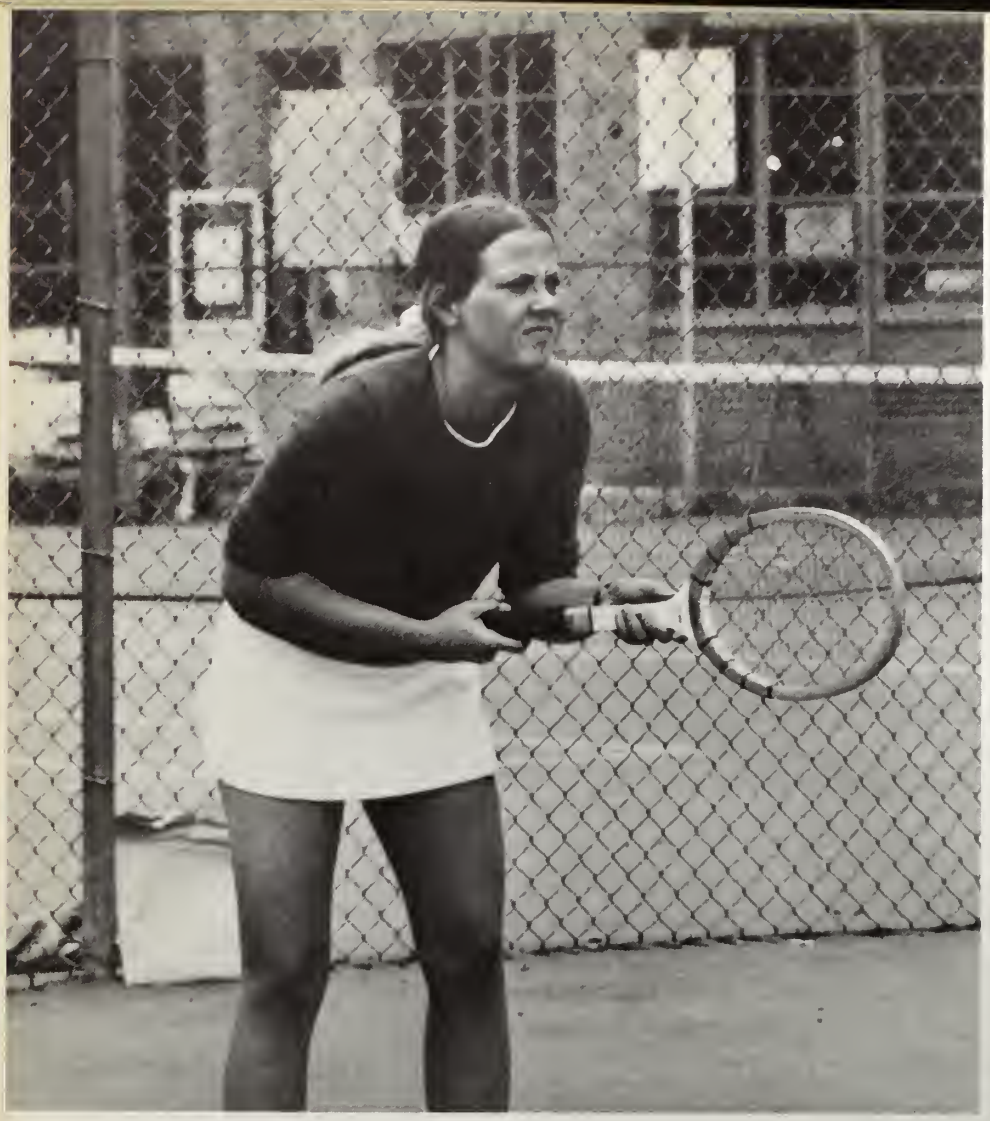
Tennis

Salem State's men's tennis team completed a most remarkable year, winning many titles throughout. For the third consecutive year the team has won the Mass. State College Athletic Conference championship with a fall record of 5-0, and a spring record of 8-2. They also placed third in the NAIA District 32.

Much of this excellence was due to the number one man, senior, Michael MacQuaid, also voted Most Valuable Player. Two outstanding freshmen, Owen Donovan and Bob Cronin won the NAIA Doubles Championship which added to the team's impressive record.

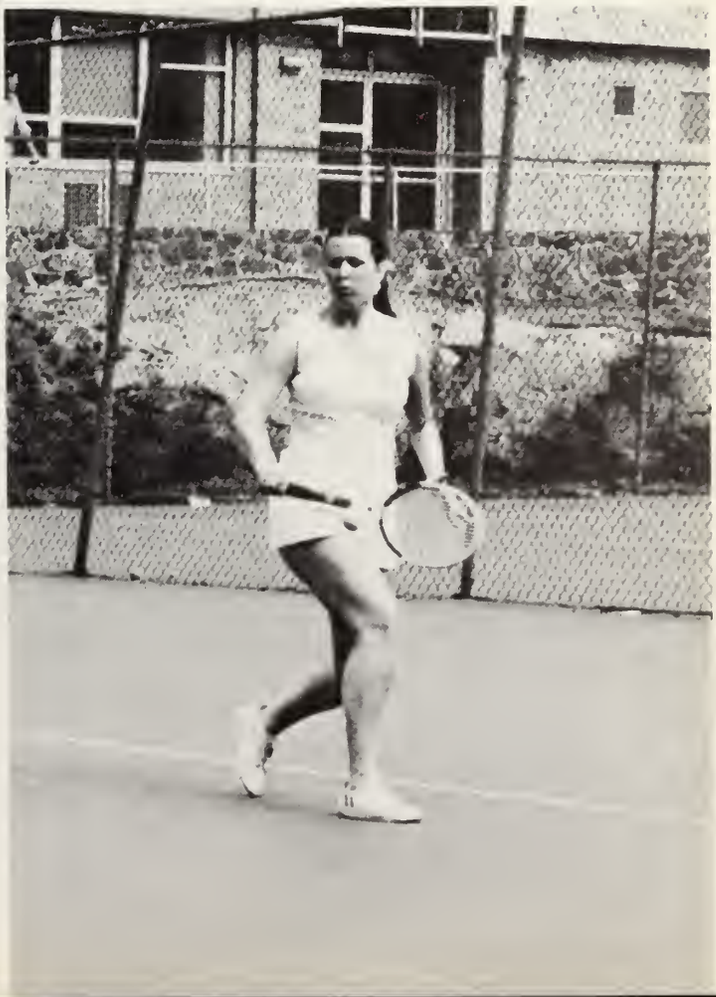
Coach Longley is hoping for another conference title next year with the outstanding ability of this team's underclassmen.

Tennis



Playing both a fall and spring season, the women's varsity tennis team, under coach Thelma Leenhouts, compiled an overall record of 7 wins and 4 losses, having been undefeated in the spring season 5-0. A highlight of the season was the State College Tennis Tournament held in Fitchburg. Salem had players in both the singles and doubles competition, with the doubles team of Lynn Vassar and Sharon Burke reaching the semi-finals.

Praise is extended to the entire team for a good season and especially to Sharon Burke, voted Most Skilled, Lynn Vassar, Most Valuable and, Vera Annese, Most Improved. The strong finish in the spring, and the fact that there are no graduating seniors, points to a successful 1974-75 season.

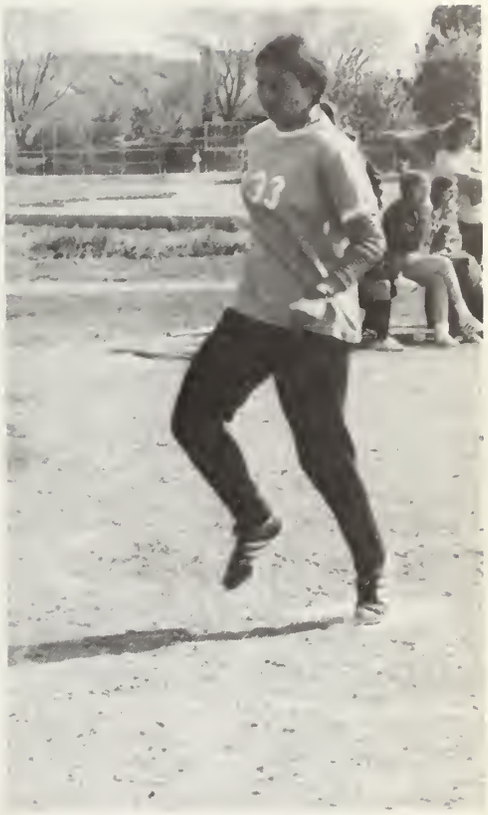


Baseball

Softball

A young team, with a great potential for the next few seasons, the women's softball team had a good year winning 3 games and losing only 3. Without the standout performance of co-captains Nancy Palaima and Beth Boutwell, and team members Sue Bowers and Mary Pelletier, the team would not have been as successful as they were.

Coach Tranguche, in her first year as coach of Salem State's team, was very pleased with the team's performance, and is looking forward to a much improved season next year.



Golf

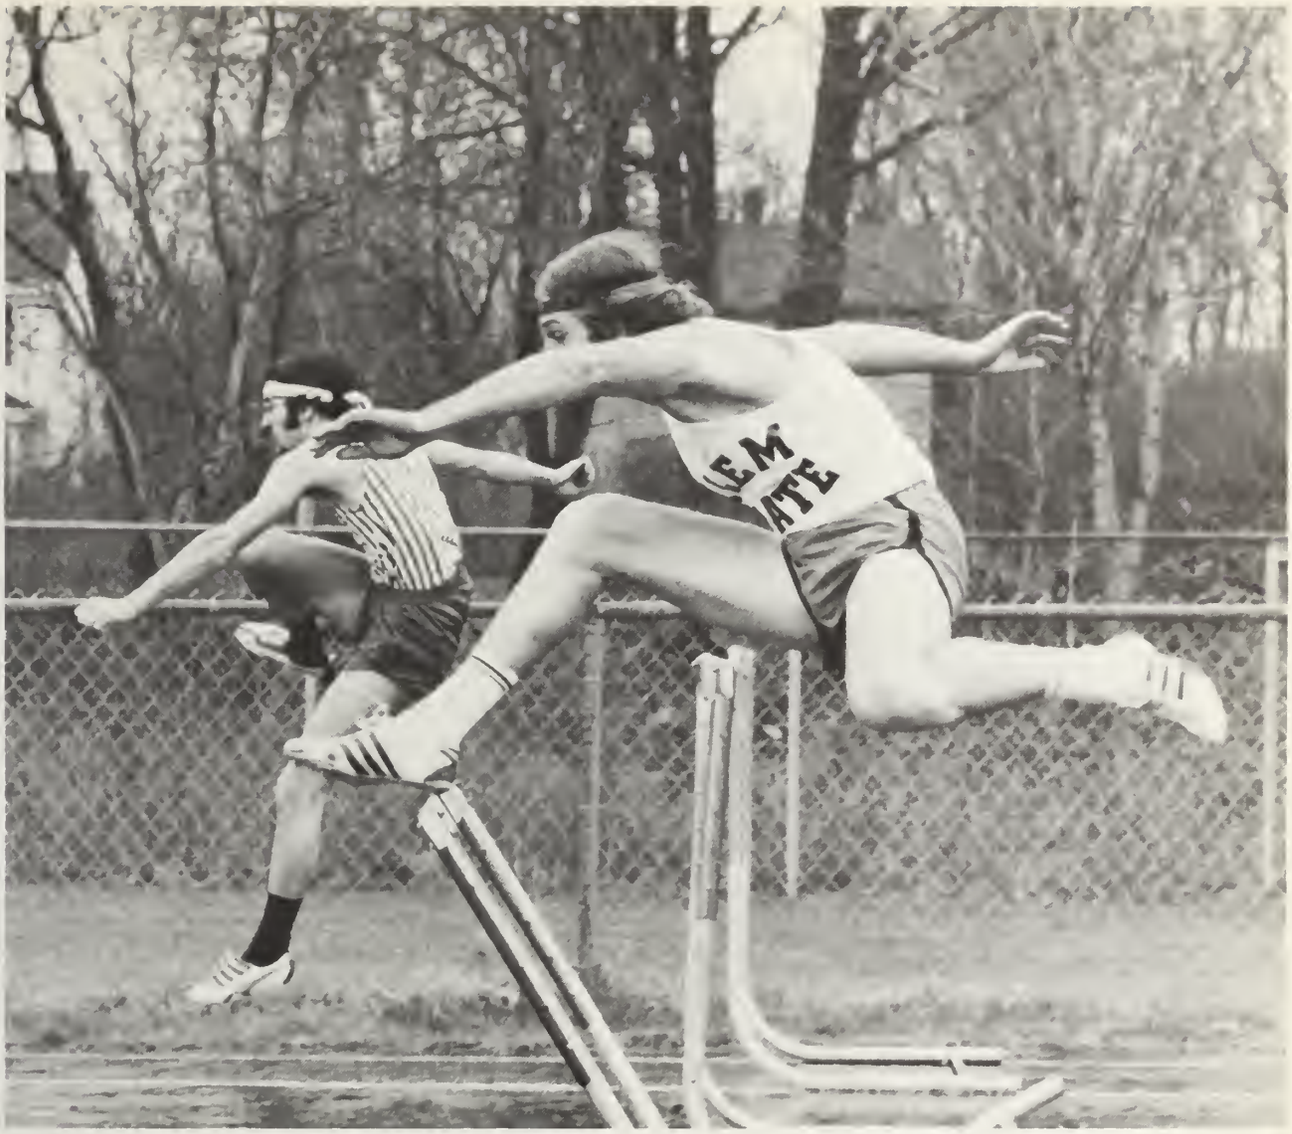
The 1973 Fall Golf season completed a successful undefeated schedule of 8 wins and 0 losses. Senior Kim O'Neil statistically was the top performer with a 77.62 record in the matches played and a 78.27 tournament record.

The Mass. State College Athletic Conference was won by SSC for the third year. In addition to this NCAA tournament win, two individuals qualified for the ECAC finals. Jim Lane, a freshman, finished third individually, and Bob Dyer, a sophomore, scored in the top ten qualifiers.

The spring season was equally impressive with one exception, a loss to SMU, leaving a record of 15 wins and 1 loss.

The team, once again for the sixth straight year, was invited to represent District I in the NCAA College Division Championships, this year held in Tampa, Florida. Salem finished 18th out of 31 teams!

Track



With a record of 15 wins and 6 losses, the men's track team had an outstanding season. The trip to Florida in the pre-season helped the team to get an early start on practice, aiding their performance during the season. Seniors who served a valuable place on the team were Scott Gillis, javelin and hammer, Bob Murphy, hammer and discus, Dick Krisko, 440 intermediate hurdles, and Manny DeCruz, high jump.

There are other team members who will carry out the team's excellent record next year. Coach Gillis hopes that even their records will improve.

Sailing

Coach Ann Murray feels that the Salem State women's sailing team completed a most encouraging season. Judy Fenner and her crew Ann Driscoll continued to place highly, and the team was fortified by a number of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors who contributed some very fine efforts in the B division.

The team competed in 11 regattas in the fall and 12 in the spring, and had a very difficult time as they competed against the top New England schools. Salem ranked fifth in the New England Region, beaten only by Radcliffe, MIT, BU, and Tufts.

The highlight of the season was the New England Women's Intercollegiate singlehanded championship which Judy Fenner won.

"I never felt better in my life. I feel as though___as though___"
"Yeah___?"
"As though some marvelous new phase of my life were about to begin."
"That must be nice."
"It is! It is!"
Kurt Vonnegut, Jr.

1974 has come to an end, and with it the completion of this book. The effort of many is needed to recreate a year and put it together in a book.

To those who helped I wish to express my sincere gratitude and appreciation.

Special thanks are extended to:

Norman Benrimo and Amos Desfosses of Purdy Studio for your inexhaustible effort.

Joseph Donovan of W.J. Keller, Inc. for your advice and patience.

The members of the Program Council, especially Steve Salvo for your interest and cooperation.

Ralph Bishop of Purdy Studio for keeping the seniors happy.

Jay Bleiler of Purdy Studio for your success in calming me down.

Paul Fenton for your superb art work.

Janet Begin for trying to cover all SSC's events.

Pete Ruseitti, Bill Rudis, Joe DiAngelo, and Joe Carabello for the muscle needed to lift the 1973 yearbooks.

Susan DiPietro, my roommate, for listening.
